

CELEBRATING CINDY

On Sunday afternoon The Attic is most fortunate to host a very special afternoon when we celebrate the life of a most incredible needlewoman. Cynthia Winn, better known to all of us as Cindy, has left a remarkable and beautiful legacy with many of us, her family, her friends, The Heart's Content, and The Attic, with not dozens but hundreds of her needlework treasures. Shown above are those she stitched for The Attic this past year. Yes, all since April 2005. And they're all done on 40c over 2, 40c over 1, or 29c over 1.

Also joining us at this special celebration will be Maureen Appleton, Cindy's dear friend for the past 30 years, and members of Cindy's family and other of her friends and, we hope, many of you. Because you will for certain have a most special treat as you see and appreciate some very spectacular needlework. Maureen arrived late last night with two suitcases packed with Cindy's needlework, not only of The Heart's Content models but many, many other favorite sampler designers as well, much of which you've probably seen in photographs but never stitched as exquisitely as these are.

Please plan to be with us anytime between 1 and 5 p.m. on Sunday afternoon for a very special needlework moment. Bring your current project(s) and enjoy some light refreshments and hear some wonderful stories that Maureen has promised to share.

There is lots that's new in the shop this past week, but that will have to follow in a subsequent newsletter.

We look forward to seeing many of you on Sunday afternoon.
